

Alliance Pipeline

Our Commitment to Landowners

Energy has become a key component of our daily lives – fuelling almost everything that we do. We rely on energy for our homes, schools and businesses; to keep us warm, run our machines and appliances, cook our food, and drive our cars. Energy is so commonplace that few probably stop to consider the vast underground pipeline infrastructure that exists to transport this energy.

Pipelines are by far the safest way to transport natural gas and are necessary infrastructure to meet the energy needs of communities and individuals. We know that few people actually choose to have a pipeline cross their property. That's why Alliance Pipeline is committed to taking a good neighbour approach in our interactions with landowners and communities.

Our promise is that we will be good neighbours which means staying in touch, taking time to listen to questions and concerns and responding in a timely manner.

We have community representatives who keep the lines of communication open in each of the provinces and states our pipeline traverses. We work hard to maintain strong relationships based on trust, honesty, and respect.

Corporate Culture Statement

Our corporate culture is grounded in mutual respect, honesty and integrity, through which we work to create value for our customers, investors, and the communities within which we operate.

Our Philosophy and Guiding Principles to Stakeholder Relations

- We ensure a stakeholder focus through a commitment to understand the current and future needs of stakeholders, and manage our business accordingly

- We encourage involvement of stakeholders at all levels of pipeline planning, construction, and operation
- We always strive to be a good neighbour.

What Landowners Can Expect from Alliance Pipeline

Working in Good Faith

Alliance Pipeline strives to minimize impacts to the land on which we operate and works in good faith with landowners to identify and address issues in a timely, fair, and consistent manner. We strive to ensure that landowners are not adversely affected by having our pipeline on their property and take a consistent approach to providing fair compensation for the rights obtained and related matters such as construction impact, reclamation, and crop-loss. And, when a landowner encounters a problem related to our pipeline, we take action to remedy this.

Alliance Pipeline began operations on December 1, 2000, transporting natural gas through a 3,719-kilometre (2,311-mile) pipeline system that collects gas in northeastern British Columbia and northwestern Alberta, running underground through Saskatchewan, North Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, and terminating in Illinois, the heart of the U.S. Midwest. Alliance delivers more than 1.6 billion cubic feet per day of rich, high-energy natural gas to the Chicago market, enough to fuel the needs of approximately seven million average homes per day.

Rigorous Safety Standards

At Alliance Pipeline, the safety of people who live and work around our pipeline is paramount. Our system was built using the most advanced pipeline design and technology available. We have a stringent integrity management program in place that ensures our system is maintained to provide safe operation. We also have a detailed emergency response plan in place to ensure that, in the unlikely event of an emergency, we are prepared to act quickly and effectively with first-responders.

Environmental Stewardship

Alliance Pipeline is committed to environmental stewardship, as demonstrated by our rigorous environmental management program. Our system produces fewer emissions than many other pipeline systems and our environmental efforts have been recognized by several industry awards for leadership in this area. We consider the environment in all aspects of our business, and as we seek new opportunities we will remain focused on minimizing our impact to the environment.

Community Investment

We don't just work in the communities along our system – we live there too. We are committed to being good corporate citizens. We invest in programs and causes that help people in the communities where we operate. We are proud supporters of projects and initiatives that support education, environmental stewardship, community development, safety, and leadership development. To date, we've invested over $7 million in the development and enhancement of communities along our system, and our employees have donated thousands of volunteer hours.

We are trailblazers.

We are innovators.

We are focused.

We are Alliance Pipeline.
